THE REPUBLICAN PRESS STILL DEMOUNGES TAYLOR.

Hanged Himself.

BUFFALO ENQUIRER, Ind., and anti-Goebel.—Taylor's course has become utterly reckless, and he has made himself liable to impeachment even if it could be shown that he were the legal Executive of the State. Taylor has taken all the rope that has been given him by the peaceful course of the Democracy and has promptly hanged himself.

Proves Himself Unworthy.

BUFFALO COURIER, Dem., and anti-Goebel.—Whether fairly elected or not, he has proven himself unworthy of public trust, and his revolutionary acts have caused a revolution of popular feeling in favor of Goebel, who, if he lives, is master of the situation; and if he dies, can go in the realization that he has again outgeneraled his opponents.

All Law Set at Defense.

PITTSBURGH LEADER, Rep.—As if the record for egregious bungling which he has already achieved were not sufficient to advertise him to the world as a weakling, and an incompetent, W. S. Taylor, the Governor-elect of Kentucky, furnishes fresh evidence of his folly by refusing to recognize the habeas corpus act. * * * Taylor and his armed followers literally set all law at defiance and are now in the attitude of insurrection against all authority except that which they arbitrarily exercise on their own account and which finds its sole warrant in Taylor's occupancy of the Statehouse at Frankfort and his control of a body of State troops large enough to defy the Legislature and the courts. All the demoralization and lawlessness thus far have been on the side of the same man who was lawfully elected Governor, but who has not the sense and the moral courage to defend his rights in a decent and orderly fashion.

ACCE Like a Man.

SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN, Rep.—Gov. Taylor has acted more like a man than a sensible man ever since the attempted assassination of Mr. Goebel. There seems to be little difference of opinion on the point that the Governor was entirely without legal warrant in adjourning the Legislature. * * * There is no excuse for such actions as these. Gov. Taylor has assumed a role dangerously near the revolutionist. * * * However just may have been the Republican claim to the office of Governor of Kentucky, it is an archaic to use revolutionary methods in the attempt to vindicate the claim. If in 1776 the Democrats of the United States had brought into the Tilden-Hayes Presidential contest the spirit now displayed by Gov. Taylor and the Kentucky mountaineers, the United States would probably have been convulsed with civil war. It is now a comparatively small issue whether Taylor be kept in office or not, on the strength of his claim of election; the greater issue is the maintenance of the law and of constitutional processes. The contest is become one for the courts to settle.

Republican Insurrection.

PROVIDENCE JOURNAL, Rep.—If there was any insurrection at Frankfort it was a Republica insurrection pure and simple. The rowdiness of the last few days, the apprehensions of nervous people in Frankfort, the rioting and disorder are directly traceable to the influx of the Republica mountaineers, armed, and in a majority of instances ignorant and uncouth, if reports are true. What a pitiful situation. Whatever we may think of the methods of Goebel it is clear that he was proceeding within the letter of the law to obtain his seat in the Executive office. The Republicans have invited Democratic success in Kentucky next November. There is not another State in the visible sign, will hardly hear which Mr. Bryan is so likely to tote much at ignoring such a gain over his electoral vote of '96, stretch of the theory of govern-

Work for Taylor.

PHILADELPHIA BULLETIN, Rep.—Reputable citizens outside of Kentucky would like to see Gov. Taylor and Lieutenant Governor respectively and giving the offices to Goebel and Beckham. This destroys the contention of the Taylor adherents that the decision seating Goebel and Beckham was illegal.

The Arrow Nail Mill, at Anderson, Ind., operated mainly by Covington, Ky., capitalists, and employing 300 men, was closed yesterday. It was organized to complete the Nail Trust.

A Taylor Contention Destroyed.

CHICAGO TIMES-HERALD, Rep.—The situation has been somewhat cleared by the action of the Legislature in reaffirming in each house respectively the decision unsitting Taylor and Marshall as Governor and Lieutenant Governor respectively and giving the offices to Goebel and Beckham. This destroys the contention of the Taylor adherents that the decision seating Goebel and Beckham was illegal.

Courts Have No Terror For Taylor.

PITTSBURGH DISPATCH, Rep.—The court undoubtedly is the proper place to decide the issue—if there is any real issue—but this sort of proceeding is not likely to accomplish that end. A Governor who has not sought to turn a Legislature out of doors, on no better claim than that of an insurrection, of which his own followers were ment by injunction, * * * The whole dispute is a blot on democratic government, and since Gov. Taylor has so flagrantly put himself in the wrong by the attempt to drag the Legislature of Kentucky there is no doubt, it is especially damaging to the Republican organization of Kentucky.

GOV. BECKHAM though a young man is not a new one in statecraft. He was Speaker of the last House and is a man of convictions, courage and determination. Adjutant General Castlemans has served in two wars and is a brave, conservative and cool-headed man. Democrats can afford to rest easy with them in charge.

WANTED!

RELIABLE MAN for Manager of Branch Office I wish to open in this vicinity. Good opening for an energetic, sober man. Kindly mention this paper when writing. A. T. Monroe, Cincinnati, Ohio. Illustrated catalogue 4cts postage.

Nervous Prostration.

I had nervous trouble for years, which at times completely prostrated me and made life not worth living. I tried many physicians and had no end of nerve and other remedies without relief. Mr. M. J. Crews, merchant, Mason, Iowa, persuaded me to try Morley's Saraparilla and Iron. The very first bottle went to the right spot, for I felt a complete change and now, after using six bottles in all I am perfectly well. MRS. LITTLE FISHER. For sale by W. M. Bell, Joppa, Ky.

GEORGETOWN.

GEORGETOWN is a beautiful city of the famous blue grass country and excels Russell County in everything except pretty girls.

Wheat looks well in Scott county, as it is one of the best wheat and tobacco counties in the State.

Russell County is well represented in this college with sons of her best teachers, via Loren O. Phelps, T. S. Isbell, C. L. Phelps and Elmer Wheat.

This college is represented by about 400 pupils, some from nearly every state in the union.

We have two societies, T. O. K. and Ciceronian. The T. O. K. leads of course, because the Russell County boys belong to it.

LEE LAWLESS.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cure make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their colds and coughs, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures cramps and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures cramp, but when given as soon as the cramp comes up, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquifies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessen the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus deriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. For sale by Mr. Cravens.

Law Enough in Kentucky.

DETROIT NEWS, Rep.—There ought to be law enough in Kentucky to settle the master without outside interference.

OBITUARY.

MARY S. MURRELL, daughter of Anderson and Lavinia Murrell, was born in Adair county, Ky., September 16, 1847; was converted under the ministry of S. S. Lovelace, October 17, 1867, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church South. She was afflicted all her life with that distressing disease, epilepsy; otherwise she was unusually good in health. She was very industrious, and though for many years, her mind was so clouded on the account of disease as not to be responsible for her acts or to know the designs of labor, she still showed she had an industrious disposition—would do some little things such as she could.

Her life was one of suffering, especially mental suffering, but she has gone to that country where she shall be blessed with health and the proper use of her mind while the eternal years go by. She died at her old home February 4; was sitting in her chair near her brother, James, when a noise attracted his attention, he beheld her falling to the floor, but as she was given to falling sickness, he supposed it was one of her usual spells, but soon saw her father come to her aid. While her father and mother lived she was tenderly cared for by them, and after their departure she has been tenderly looked after by her brothers, Nathan and James, who live at the old home place. She has joined her father and mother and two sisters who preceded her the glory land.

Her brother, J. L. MURRELL.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the General Burnham of Machias Mc., when the doctor said she would die from pneumonia before morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use cured her; this marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50¢ and $1.00. Trial bottle free at T. E. Pauli's Drug store.

Chronic Sore Leg.

Mr. J. Richardson had a running sore on his leg for 20 years. Tried doctors and medicines without end or any permanent good. Mr. L. B. Nunnally, druggist, Hartford, Ia., recommended Morley's Saraparilla and Iron to cure the cause of the sore and make it heal from the inside. The remedy cured my leg and put me in better health than I have been for 20 years. Sold by W. M. Bell, Joppa, Ky.

ADVOCATES COAST DEFENSES.

Representative Cooper, of Wisconsin, thinks, however, men should be provided in man them.

"I am in favor of strengthening the navy to meet all the requirements of the nation, and I would like to propose of Wisconsin that it is just as important to build coast defenses. These two important works can be carried on simultaneously. Our country should be fitted up so that such a calamity as a severe attack, and it is also important to preserve the fortifications already constructed. It is plain enough that we are not fit for the gun. A well-established fact that the guns mounted in the emplacements at the coast cities deteriorate at the rate of 20 per cent a year, and the expense of putting enough men to care for them is manifest. We have already spent $63,000,000 in fortifying our coast, and we are now compelled to look after these improvements that they will be almost worthless in a few years.

"I am heartily in favor of the Endicott plan, which provides for a coast defense of 27 forts mounting 667 heavy guns and 82 mortars of modern construction. Since the war with Spain, our coast has deeply interested all men pertaining to the national defense, and the people are willing the public funds should be expended in making the coast safe from attack. There are no disposed to the part of the members of congress to be more liberal in this respect than they were last year, ergo, congress can be depended upon to do everything that is required of this nature."

BLOW AT FLAT BUILDINGS.

Alderman Griffith, of Chicago, wants the old-fashioned home restored.

Alderman Griffith will try to legislate the people of Chicago out of big-living now by proposing an ordinance to limit the height to four stories. He thinks there are thousands of men and women who have the same impulse for the sake of encouraging themselves in some apartment building or so-called hotel. From a sociological point of view, the idea of the fifth with half said such an ordinance would be salutary. He said:

"People are going crazy living in these big apartment buildings. It does away with the features of American citizenship, and the council should try to check such tendencies. Then these fashionable people, who are afraid to live in family houses or permanent buildings give up their residences and die charge on army of domestic servants. They have no more use for coal or charcoal than for oil, and as a friend of labor I think the individual homes should be preserved. There are too many labor-saving devices in these new apartment houses to return to them. Conveniences are all right in their way. The servant girl problem may 'cut some ice' in this question, but it is not so bad as the eight-story apartment buildings we would have more homes and more servants."

BLIND BUT SHAVES HIMSELF.

Mr. Condo, Chaplain of the House, yields the razor in his own behalf.

Recently Representative Craft was seated in his barber's chair in the capitol when a boy in a coat handed him a barber who was shaving him a small leather covered box. "If I should give you a shave," said the boy, "will you give me a dime?" "Yes," said the boy to her, "but I don't know what you mean." "Would not be able to tell me what this box contains." "I do not believe I could," replied Mr. Condo, "but I would like to know what you mean."

"There are some razors belonging to Chaplain Condon," responded the barber, "and whenever they are all used they send them here to be sharpened."

There would be nothing unusual about this if it were not for the fact that Chaplain Condon is a really blind man, perhaps having lost his eyesight since White Dr. Condon has been blind for a number of years, he has no practice to shave himself, and so well does he do it that he has even shaved his face, and, according to the barber's story is less liable to damage than a man who has the use of both eyes.

TO THE RISE IN PRICE.

A certain girl has been in a trance since Christmas, and there are no details, says St. Paul Globe, as to who sent the diamond ring.

ISLAND EXHIBITS.

Commissioner General Peck preparing to leave Cuba and Hawaii reported to Paris Exposition.

Commissioner General Peck is preparing for the exhibits from Cuba and Hawaii at the Paris exposition. Mr. Peck has made arrangements with the American architect in Paris to complete plans for the erection of two kiosks for the permanent exhibition of Cuban and Hawaiian products. The kiosks will be located adjoining the Manufactures building. Some Quedada will have charge of the Cuban display under the direction of Commissioner General Peck. Both of these exhibits will be in the United States division.

The United States crates Prairie, which is to be exhibited in the Cuban exhibit to Paris, sailed from Havana for New York a few days ago. It is expected that the Prairie will make its second trip to France with a cargo of exhibits for the Paris fair of January, and a third trip later on a possibility.

SURPRISES SOCIETY.

Ballet Dance One of the Features at a Dinner Party.

How a Cincinnati Home Provided Her Guests with Music and Delightful Entertainment—Vance Dancy is served.

Ballet girls in Spanish costumes danced at a private dinner given by Mrs. M. Goldsmith at her home in Beecher avenue, Cincinnati, the other evening. Mrs. Goldsmith entertained her guests with music from ten until five o'clock, when all the guests were invited to the great dining-room. The music was delightfully decorated and the views appeared to be the best, but upon investigation proved to be imitations of the real things.

Everything on the table, from the dinner to the fruits, down to the flowers and vegetables, were made of beauty. A beautifully decorated basket was at the side of each guest's plate, which was received as souvenirs of the affair. After the fine dinner and its attendant fun were over, the dinner was served in the room of the banquet when the room was suddenly darkened and from unseen corner the strains of the orchestra were heard.

No sooner had the music started than two great falling doors were thrown open and in dashed a company of little theater girls. They circled gracefully around the room, each bearing an electrically lighted cut glass plate, on which was a small bouquet of flowers. The light shone through the cream with beautiful effect. The entrance of the ballet girls caused a scene of surprise and unprepared for anything of the sort. After dancing a few minutes, the girls waited on the guests, and while they were finishing the dinner, the girls disappeared. Mr. Goldsmith, whose wife was the evening's hostess, is a retired business man and is intensely patriotic. The dinner was given in honor of the 4th of July, and the guests were invited to a meeting to be held in a man's hall patriotic in the young people of the nation. Now they have schools, which they call "our schools," and when they enter the state cities they see the state buildings, and they are "ours." But in the possession of a government building, they want to see that they have a place in the government, of which they are a part and to which they give their support.

The girls, however, had no room to sit, so a room was set aside to be used for patriotic purposes. I would permit the young people to gather there for the purpose of holding a meeting, and when the government building, and they are "ours."

With the declaration of independence and the constitution painted upon the wall in such large letters that they could be seen from every part of the room, I would have the American flag there, and a picture of Gen. Washington, and if necessary the government to furnish these things, as some one would come forward and supply them. If this plan were adopted there would be a perceptible growth of patriotism on the part of American youth."

ARMY POST FOR DES MOINES.

BILL in Congress for the Establishment Near Iowa City of Part of the Standing Army.

MARRIED TO WRONG ONE.

William Leary Weds a Girl at Cincinnati Under Her Grandmother's Name.

William Leary, of California, who breaks horseback and log chaises into pieces, wedded a girl at Cincinnati yesterday. The bridegroom is a member of a military post at or near Des Moines. The committee, in its report, says it is the best policy of the country to have a military post in Iowa, and that the money will be well spent on what has been known as the frontier and to concentrate troop strength in large centers of population and railroads centers, and the Indians are grouped on reservations and the necessity for small detachments of troops to protect settlers.

Des Moines is one of the great railroad centers of the west, having ten roads, each with their branches, ready every part of the state and could be expected to be a good market for a post on the Mississippi or Missouri river to protect the great bridges across those streams. It is situated in the agricultural belt, and the soil is good. The United States, and troops can be maintained there at a minimum cost. The climate is good, and the soil is good, and could be thrown into any of the great cities of the middle west in a few hours not.

The measure is also influenced by the war department officials, who have asked for the establishment of a fort near Des Moines.

BIG METEOR FALLS IN OIL.

The Strange Experience of William Albert White Working in a Field.

A strange sequel to the terrible shock, of an earthquake, which occurred in Taiwan, China, only two days ago has come from the town of Pearl, situated near the county boundary, southwest of Caudine. The shock occurred at 10 p.m., and was so violent that it completely fell here and in all parts of the county. Buildings trembled and glass was rattled in many windows. The telegraph office, which is a two-story building, was thrown down, and the telephone wires to the cause, but no plausible explosion could be given.

William Albert, a former living near Pearl, a native of the state, was working in a field when the shock occurred.

The father first heard a whistling sound, and, looking aloft, was terrified to see a huge burning ball flying toward him. The son then threw the weight of the strange missile, which left a trail of smoke and fire. It exploded. Its weight, however, did not penetrate the earth, but the intense heat caused the ground to tremble beneath them and were so unnerved that they left the house and went to the hospital. An effort is being made to locate the spot where the missile fell, which may throw some light on the strange occurrence. It is believed to be a meteorite and it is the opinion of the experts that this gun will be selected for the army.
